High speed trains connect the major cities at three hundred kilometers per hour.

Railway stations sell tickets online and at the counter.